Jollybops

Boom, pop the Jollybops are here!

Today the Jollybops visited Lisarow Public School to teach us about how Aborigines got around and played their music. The Jollybops came to teach us about heat and sound. We interviewed the Professor and Rusty the robot.

“So, How long has the show been running?” “For about 10 years.” Now that’s a long time.

“How many schools do you go to in a year?” “130 schools, such as NSW, Melbourne and Canberra.”

“Where did you learn all of this science?” “Mainly in High School and University.”
Lisarow Primary love to see the Jollybops. We are lucky to see them can’t wait to see them again.

Written by: Paige Alexander and Gabby Boucher