Everyone needs a little support, right?

Our new groups, co-leaders and leaders are enthusiastic about their adventures in peer support. Reactions of the little ones are a mix of excitement and shyness.

Peer Support helps children understand friendships, being fair, respect, co-operating and many other social skills.

Everyone enjoys meeting new people and having much fun. The leaders and co-leaders are happy with the respect and enthusiastic smiles they get from their groups. We spoke with Taylor H, Haylie M and Chloe D to share their experiences of peer support.

Haylie and Taylor said they cope really well with the kids and its fun, but also a bit stressful having the responsibility of being a leader or co-leader.

Chloe D thinks peer support is educational and it’s fun to mix with different people.

Leaders and co-leaders have learnt a lot from their experience and have enjoyed mixing with their groups.
